

This is Itiviti

Itiviti helps financial institutions worldwide to seize opportunities early, and capture tomorrow.

Vision

Evolve trading for the augmented age—We believe the future of trading is people supported by technology, not the other way around. The firms of the future will gain advantage from fast, flexible systems that can adapt, automate and evolve as they need.

The vendor partner

Today, firms are looking for technology providers to partner with them and help them scale their business, while focusing their energy and talent on what they do best. Itiviti is perfectly geared to such partnerships, enabled by our global presence, with a comprehensive services and solutions offering that can support both sell-side and buy-side customers across the full breadth of their business.

What we do

Bringing together some of the most powerful technology platforms, Itiviti delivers fast, reliable solutions for connectivity, trading and compliance. Our portfolio addresses the full trade lifecycle across asset classes, enabling clients to consolidate their trading infrastructure.

Itiviti's offering reflects our modular design philosophy, using transparent architectures with open interfaces to facilitate standalone deployment as well as integration with others. For customers, this flexibility translates to agility, meaning rapid deployment, faster time to market and quick adaptation to regulatory change.

How we do it

Digitize and automate

A pioneer in electronic trading, Itiviti continues to push the envelope in digitized markets, helping our customers to further automate the trading lifecycle and trade smarter, while retaining control and ensuring compliance.

Buy and build

Itiviti's trading platforms are open, modular and flexible, allowing customers to adapt the technology to their needs, enabling business growth.

Continuous innovation

Our commitment to innovation helps customers stay ahead of the competition. 40% of Itiviti's people are involved in R&D.

Expert advice

Itiviti has a dedicated, global team of seasoned professionals, with deep domain expertise in the intersection of technology and capital markets. We advise customers from business case to implementation and day-to-day operations, as well as on their future needs.

Global capabilities

Itiviti has presence in every major financial center around the world, and we are there to attend to customer needs around the clock.

Our legacy

A company founded on entrepreneurship and innovation, Itiviti has been shaping the trading technology industry for more than 30 years.